

HOCKEY, RACISM & MEMORY-MAKING

THE SOUTH ASIAN STUDIES INSTITUTE INVITES YOU

To a forum based on the South Asian Studies Institute curated exhibit "We Are Hockey," that decenters the power and privilege of settler communities.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Dr. Courtney Szto, Queen's University

Dr. Szto will discuss the right to public memory as an important marker of citizenship that speaks to human dignity and identity as part of a functioning democratic society. Modern sports halls of fame and museums have carried on this tradition by immortalizing specific (and exclusive) past accomplishments, while concurrently, relegating others to oblivion. Through a more inclusive re-telling of Canada's hockey history she argues for a form of intersectional justice.
